

WOOMERA

Australia's World Class Lures

Predatek Woomera

Woomera is an aboriginal word for 'spear thrower'. Ruggedly designed, yet nimble, the Predatek Woomera generates a strong, vibrant action radiating from slab-like sides. The belly contours enhance hook exposure for strikes. The Woomera is designed to closely mimic the erratic behavior of a frantic baitfish. Its hi-vibe action and wake-em-up rattle makes enough underwater noise to ring the dinner bell for predators. From slow crank speeds all the way up to 4 knots on the troll, Woomera will entice fish on the prowl.

Woomera is a winner. Built strong with a thick ABS body, ultrasonically welded together after heavy-duty hardware and rattles are installed, and presented with Predatek's quality paint finish and great spectrum of colours, Woomera is irresistible to a wide variety of predators.

Tow from the nose

Woomera tows from the nose (like the Viper). It has large eyes, a slim slab-sided body to provide good hook exposure, and a narrow action with a high frequency wobble.

Mangrove creeks

Although designed for the tropical mangrove creek scene, it works well on southern saltwater species, and goes deep enough to be a proposition for large native species in rivers.

Predatek Woomera Skitzo.

Why 'Woomera Skitzo'? What better name for a lure with a split personality. Two slots in the diving lip. This generates two different actions and depth ranges from one lure, it's all about design versatility. Simply move the tow point to a different slot to change the depth and action.

Woomera Skitzo is two lures in one.

Woomera Skitzo's dual action and wake-em-up rattle makes it a very versatile lure that appeals to many species.

Rear Slot.

Wide throbbing action at depths to 3 metres (10ft). This is a good setting for slow, twitchy, cast-and-retrieve probing around shallower structure.

Front Slot.

A fast tight action down to 4.5 metres (15ft). A good setting for trolling deeper structure at up to 4 knots.
